Dear Potential Donor

We would like to invite your organization to participate as a Special Award donor at the 2012 Beal Bank Dallas Regional Science & Engineering Fair. Each year, thousands of local Middle and High School students compete to qualify for our Regional Science Fair, where well over 1,000 judges and competitors gather to review and exhibit the best Dallas-area science projects. We encourage area businesses as well as professional and educational organizations to judge and award their own prizes at the Fair. All Special Awards are typically highlighted in local news media, on our official website DallasScienceFair.org and in our Awards Banquet Program.

The next Fair will take place in Fair Park, Dallas, Saturday February 25, 2012.

If your organization would like to donate Special Awards, please register/edit your details online at the Special Awards page of DallasScienceFair.org
You may also send and update details of your judges online.

If you prefer, you may instead complete and mail/email paper forms

If possible, please register your awards by December 31, 2011. Your prizes and judge details may be sent later, but are needed by February 10, 2012 to give us enough time to prepare.

If you have any questions about Special Awards, please feel free to email scifair@physics.smu.edu

Thank you for your support and consideration!
